Estate Planning Documents

Will and Last Testament: Distributes property and assets according to your wishes. It also appoints a representative or administrator to handle your estate after you pass. Having a Will can help avoid family disputes and conflicts.

Revocable Living Trust: Allows you to name a trustee to manage your assets during your lifetime and upon passing. You can manage the assets by placing them in a trust and keep them available to you during your life.

Durable Power of Attorney: Allows you to appoint a person to make certain decisions on your behalf.

Cremation Instructions: Allows you to appoint a person to specifically carry out your wishes for cremation and disposition of ashes.

Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care: Allows you to appoint a person to make certain health care decisions and is unaffected if you are disabled.

Health Care Directive: Provides instructions and makes known your desire for artificially prolonged circumstances.

Uniform Donor Pledge: Provides specific instructions for any anatomical gifts you may wish to make.

Digital Estate Plan: Helps organize and index your digital property and assets.

Community Property Agreement: Agreement between married spouses for outlining the disposition of community property upon one spouse's passing.
